These courses reflect the core belief that underpins all of the College's world-class conducting programmes: conductors learn best by conducting other musicians. All participants will conduct at least twice, working with RNCM student ensembles.

Typical participants will be current, recent, or prospective students of a full-time conducting course; professional musicians for whom conducting is part of a performing or teaching career; and those involved in amateur music-making.

The RNCM is at the forefront of conducting training internationally. Current students and recent graduates of our Junior Fellowship and Masters programmes are regularly successful in major competitions and hold, or have recently completed, assistant conductor positions with the Berliner Philharmoniker, City of Birmingham Symphony Orchestra, English National Opera, Hallé, London Symphony Orchestra, New York Philharmonic, and the Minnesota Orchestra.
