

RNCM Creative Corporate Training

—
2022

The post-pandemic landscape has created a whole new set of demands for the modern business world. Recovery, re-invention and resilience are more important than ever as businesses navigate the world of hybrid working, staff burnout and the Great Resignation.

As world-leading specialists in music education and training, we are experts in collaboration, communication, and team cohesion. The RNCM's Creative Corporate Training packages will support your business in building a strong and confident leadership, and help you to develop an organisation of confident, impactful individuals who work efficiently and effectively together.

By drawing on our unique, creative strengths and with access to our world-class teaching staff, we deliver training events that are original, creative and innovative to bring your colleagues back together, steer their professional development and improve their wellbeing.

rncm.ac.uk

RNCM
ROYAL NORTHERN
COLLEGE of MUSIC

WORKSHOPS

We offer full or half day options, with a range of skills-based and team building modules available. These can be tailored to fit your organisational needs, or we can work with you to develop a truly bespoke training plan. These can be delivered at one of our dedicated training spaces at RNCM, or even onstage at one of our venues, or we can come to you wherever you are based. Bespoke courses are perfect for away days or strategy days and can focus on any area of your business as appropriate e.g. Graduate Training, Equality Diversity & Inclusion or Promoting Women in Leadership.

TEAM BUILDING

- Percussion and drumming workshop: Express yourselves through sound and rhythm, listening and responding to one another to keep time and build on a steady beat
- Making movie music magic: Work with colleagues to form an orchestral rhythm section and create a no-skills-required soundtrack to a scene from a well-known film
- Choir: Step out of your comfort zone and have some fun working with a professional vocal coach and conductor to bring a popular song to life
- Improvisation: Hone the skills required to respond under pressure by working with an experienced stand-up comedian
- Wellbeing: Experience the joy of a morning/afternoon spent immersed in music and music-making, including breathing and mindfulness, group playing and creative expression

SKILLS BASED

- The Role of the Conductor: Learn the techniques and strategies world class conductors use with orchestras: real-time decision making, teamwork, time management, and the art of compromise
- Reacting on the spot: Develop the skills of improvisation to perform well under pressure
- Creative thinking to develop strategy: Use the experience of creative organisations to develop your business in innovative and dynamic ways
- Body Language awareness: Examine the different situations needed for effective communication in different countries and cultures
- Creating and delivering presentations with confidence
- Developing memory to deliver pitches and speeches: Simple techniques used by performers
- Harnessing the power of your voice through vocal technique and breathing
- Effective networking and moving within a space: Have the confidence to approach people in any business situation

Make a night of it and add on our evening entertainment package to treat your staff to dinner, drinks and a concert performed by RNCM students, to round off their day.

Discounted tickets available to Creative Corporate Training clients. Subject to availability and calendar of events.*

CONTACT US

Price available on request

For more information or to book:

Eve Riley, Head of Philanthropy and Partnerships
eve.riley@rncm.ac.uk
0161 907 5338

    @RNCMLIVE